

Giving back is a way of life in New Mexico. We are one of the country's most philanthropic states based on time and money donated to community service. That is something to be very proud of. The New Mexico Business Weekly's Third Annual Corporate Heroes Awards recognize 12 people and 12 businesses or organizations that work extra hard to improve the quality of lives in the state. This year's judges, all Corporate Heroes alumni, looked at the nominees' commitment to giving and volunteering, and the impact those efforts have had on the community. The 24 selected honorees embody the best in giving back. I congratulate, and thank, the 2010 class of Corporate Heroes.
